October 11, 1977-

Dear Admiral--

Since one of the founding fathers of the Institute was your relatively distant predecessor Allen Dulles, you will understand our particular interest in asking you to be our guest at an afternoon meeting of our group.

I'm sure you'll find a number of friends and acquaintances in the enclosed membership list -- Messrs. Colby, Cline and others as well as Governor Harriman and Admiral Wright among them. I'm also enclosing a brief description of who we are and what we do, but would like to emphasize that our meetings have always been and still are off the record. I'm also enclosing a list of previous speakers.

Our afternoon meeting begin at 5 p.m. usually at the Cosmos Club, when those members attending meet our guest over cocktails. We move at 5:30 to an adjoining room for a 20-30 minute talk--on any subject you choose--and ask our guest to stand for question for 30 to 40 minutes. We adjourn promptly at 6:30 p.m.

With perhaps more confidence in the U.S. mails than is deserved I'll call your secretary at the end of this week or the beginning of next to ask what date might be convenient for you--hopefully on a weekday at the end of October or in November. I do hope you can be with us.

Sincerely yours -

Charles S. Foltz, Jr.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION ONLY:

The membership of the Washington Institute of Foreign Affairs is limited to 200 residents and 50 non-residents of the Washington metropolitan area, all U.S. citizens. A major part of the membership is composed of active international bankers, businessmen and lawyers, or educators, of specialists and consultants in economics, finance, space, energy, defense and other areas. All living former Secretaries of State are members, as well as a number of former Secretaries of the Treasury and other former Cabinet members. High administration officials, Senators and Congressmen, Supreme Court Justices, ambassadors and general officers of the U.S. Armed Services must have left government service to be eligible for membership, though some have retained their membership when recalled to government service.

The Institute's activities center around a program of meetings held from mid-September to mid-June. Most of these start with cocktails at 5 p.m., followed by a 20-to-30 minute talk by the guest and questions or comments from members until 6:30 p.m., when these meetings end. There are also a limited number of luncheon and dinner meetings with similar formats. Most meetings are held in Washington's Cosmos, F Street, Metropolitan or International Clubs.

All meetings of the Institute are entirely off-the-record. No quotation or attribution, public or private, is permitted.
